

STEEL IN HIS EYE

Arthur Foulke, of Arcadia, is suffering from an injury to his eye that is causing him a good deal of pain. Foulke is employed by the Ilg Car and Tractor Company and on Tuesday, while working with some of the machinery, a gliver of steel struck him in the left eye. The eyeball was scratched and it became necessary for him to have the assistance of a physician. It is not believed that the eye ball is injured permanently or that the sight will be impaired in any way.
