
Deaths.

We regret to learn of the death, near Baker's Corner, of Mrs. Foulke, wife of George Foulke, and daughter of Howland Wilson, Esq., of Noblesville, which occurred on the night of Friday, June 29th, 1877. Deceased was a young woman, but we are not advised of her exact age. She left a husband and one small child to mourn her loss. During the past four or five years the Foulke family has been severely afflicted by the hand of death. Last week we announced the death of William and now the wife of George, making six deaths in the course of less than that many years.

Some how or other we failed to speak last week of the death of Mrs. Rosanna Barnes, which occurred here the week before, 23d ult. Deceased was a daughter of Sylvester Bartholomew, of Jackson township, and was buried at Cicero, on Monday, June 24th.
