CONSTITUTION

Article 1

This club first organized
as a Community Club, Dec.
18, 1923. Meetings on the first Wednesday of each month.

Article 2

Dues shall be $1.20 per year, payable at the January meeting.

Article 3

Any member whose dues are not paid in full by the end of the club year,
shall be automatically
dropped from the club.

Article 4

A gift shall be sent to the sick member.

Article 5

In case of the death of any member or her husband a memorial of $10.00 will be given to a charity of the person's choice.

Article 6

Limit of 24 members.

Article 7

Permanent date for election of officers shall be the October meeting.

Article 8

A woman may become a member of the club by her name being presented and voted upon at a regular meeting. If three or more dissenting votes do not appear, she can be asked to become a member. No one shall be asked to become a member until after her name has been voted on.

COLLECT

"Keep us O God from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.

Let us be done with fault finding and leave off self-seeking.

May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face, without self pity and without prejudice.

May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous.

Let us take time, for all things; make us grow calm, serene and gentle.

Teach us to put in action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid.

Grant that we may realize it is the little things that create differences, that in the big things of life we are as one.

And may we strive to touch and to know the great common human heart of us all; O Lord, God, let us forget not, to be kind."

notebook

Dad

- A single book could scarce contain, the list of jobs, and dads retain.
- To pay the bills, buy shoes and clothes, and house the family as it grows.
- In trouble, dads are cool and calm, yet know how to apply the palm.
- When sons set up, or daughters pose, they show what's best without a doubt!
- Remember too, that dads must be, advisers and judges without fee, solvers of problems, playmates too.
- Dads scold and tease, but guard us well.

Mother

- Mothers are doctors, seamstresses, cooks, they're presiding teachers, readers of books, judges and bankers and watchers of clocks.
- Laundresses, scrubwomen, menders of socks.
- They're starters and stoppers, and bakers of tarts.
- Healers of bruises and small broken hearts.
- Housemaids, gardeners, chauffeurs on call.
- No problems too great, no question too small.
- Standing ready to help in sidewalk or snow.
- How do they do it?
- Only Mothers know

PATHWAYS

The path on earth which now I trod
Is simply one that leads to God.
This thought each day supplies
me grace
To venture yet another pace,
Another step that leads toward
The love and peace of Christ the Lord.

—MARY McDONALD.

MY DAILY CREED

Not for gold
Nor mansions grand,
Nor selfish pride—God,
You understand.

Help me to love
The little things,
Enjoy each day—
Hope for new springs.

Help me to know
That Thou art near
When skies are dark—
When they are clear.

Help me to show
By word and deed,
Thou art my pattern—
My daily creed.

—EDNA HAMILTON.

SEASONAL SENTIMENTS

Haul in the logs, light up the fire,
Let seasonal wishes soar higher and higher.
Hang branches of fir, pinecones, and holly.
Banish all gloom, away melancholy.
Festoon the tree with garlands that shimmer,
Add twinkling lights with a firefly's glimmer.
Wrap up the presents, bought with much love
For the special person you were thinking of.
Tie them with ribbons and big shiny bows.
Wear rings on your fingers and bells
on your toes.

(Not really, of course, simply in spirit,
For Christmas is here, surely you hear it?)
Not far away sleigh bells are ringing.
Listen real closely: Angels are singing.
Lovely old carols fill the cold air.
Up on the rooftop—is Santa Claus there?
Kitchens are filled with sugar and spice,
For cookies and candies made to entice.
From far and wide, greeting cards come—
A wish from an aunt, an old high-school chum,
From Johnny and Susan and Michael and Jenny,

Hopes for a holiday better than any.
How nice it would be one thinks with a tear,
If this kind of joy could flourish all year.

—LEONHARD DOWTY
