

Home at Last!

Welcome home, you valiant men from land and sea and air!

You gave your ALL ungrudgingly and we shall not be stingy with our praise.

We owe you men a debt of gratitude on which we shall never be able even to pay the interest.

You hold a mortgage on our friendship, our time, our means and our business.

The honor you have brought to your native State is more than we expected—and we expected much.

From this time on you will hold a place in our hearts that only such sacrifices as you have made could ever obtain.
